A south-east facing traditional villa in a quiet cul-de-sac, Moraira

This villa is for somebody who loves a project. A pedestrian gate to the main entrance and also a separate gate to a car entrance and the garage. Two bedrooms, one bathroom and a good size living room. A traditional kitchen which you could open up to the lounge and dining room. The covered terrace has been glazed in and is now part of the lounge. Access to the outside from here. Also a spiral staircase up to the roof terrace. The east side of the plot borders to the green zone. Outside storage cupboards and a covered barbeque area. A do-upper or maybe to demolish and build a new house. Central heating and double glazed windows.
